

JAS TRE BAR SKO

ABOUT THE TOWN:

Where rolling hills merge with vineyards lies a town that tells its own story Jastrebarsko, known to everyone as Jaska. They say it was named after the hawks that once circled above this region, and today that same feeling of freedom still hovers here, in every view of the green slopes and every step through nature.

This is where the Plešivica Wine Road begins, the smallest wine region in Croatia. It is a route that leads not only through vineyards, but through passion, tradition, and an exceptional wine story that has won over both local and international stages. Every glass carries the taste of the land, the effort, and the generations who created what we now call the pride of Jastrebarsko.

And when you wish to escape even deeper into nature, Žumberak–Samoborsko Gorje Nature Park awaits. There rises Japetić, the highest peak of the Samobor Hills, a place where adventure and peace meet. Whether you come to hike, spend a family day outdoors, or dare to take a paragliding flight, Japetić offers an experience that stays with you.

Jaska is a town that lives in a full circle, from spring to glass. This is where Jana is born. This is where Milivoj Golub still works, one of the few coopers preserving an ancient craft and giving soul to every wine cellar. Everything here has a story. Everything has a reason. And everything invites you to come.

Set out on your own adventure through Jaska, a town that will captivate you at first sight, keep you with every new experience, and call you back again and again.

Description of Hiking Trails:

JAPETIĆ

Jastrebarsko-Žitnica

The trail starts in Jastrebarsko, near the Church of the Holy Spirit, where free parking is available. From there, it leads towards Gornja Reka and Vranovdol. After crossing the stream, a moderately steep ascent begins through the vineyards and continues towards Kupeć Dol. The route then passes through the village and follows a gravel road to Frgolovec, where parking is also available. From there, the trail turns onto a hiking path towards “Poštenci stol”, followed by the steepest part of the ascent through the forest to a meadow and Žitnica Mountain Lodge, a suitable place for rest and refreshments. From the lodge, the trail continues with a shorter final ascent across meadows and through the forest to the summit of Japetić. The last few minutes involve a steeper but brief climb to the lookout pyramid.

Duration: 3:00h

Difficulty: moderately demanding

Map:

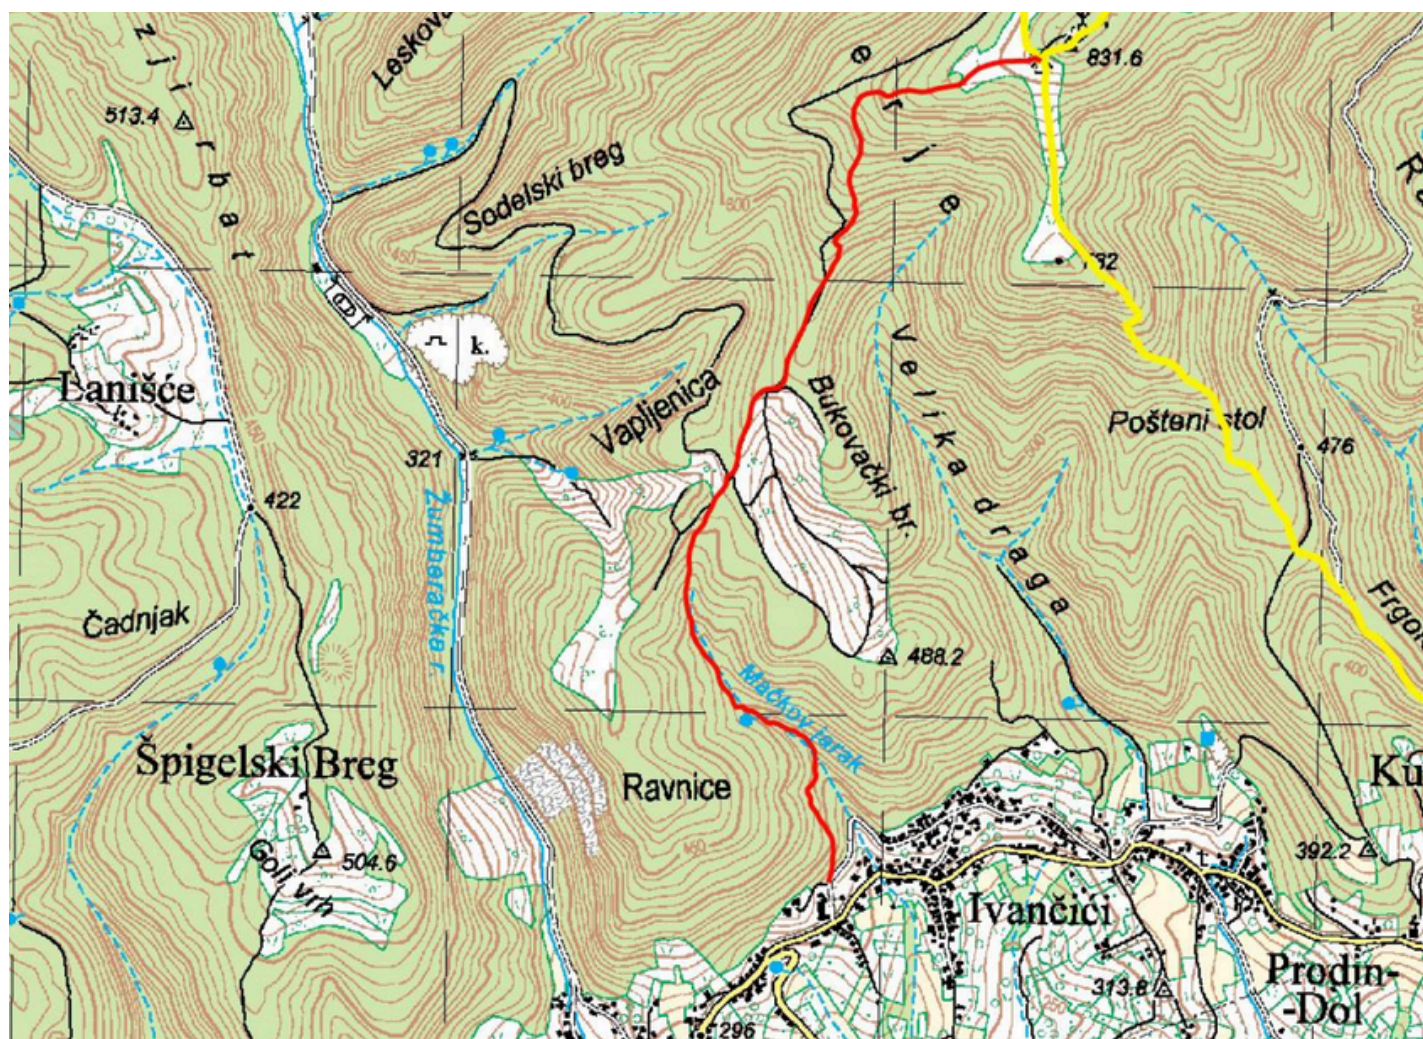

Ivančiči (Šumski dvor)-Japetić

The trail starts from the parking area near the turn-off for Šumski Dvor, as the parking area next to the restaurant is private. From there, the route briefly follows the asphalt road to the restaurant, then enters the hiking trail on the northern side of the building. The initial part of the ascent is steep and technically more demanding. The trail is poorly maintained, overgrown in places and blocked by fallen trees, while the trail markings are faded, making orientation more difficult until reaching the forestry road near "Okretaljka". After that, the trail becomes clearer and easier to follow. It continues along the forestry road, then turns left onto a steeper hiking trail leading to a meadow and Žitnica Mountain Lodge, a suitable place for rest. From the lodge, a shorter final ascent follows, combining footpaths and gravel roads, leading to the summit of Japetić at 879 m.

Duration: 1:30h

Difficulty: moderately demanding, with a more challenging initial section

Map:

PLEŠIVICA

Breznik Plešivički – Poljanice – Plešivica Peak

This route leads through the Samobor Hills and is a moderately demanding hiking trip. The starting point is in Breznik Plešivički, from where trail no. 10 leads through Gornji Pavlovčani and the village of Plešivica towards the hunting lodge at Poljanice. This section is approximately 8.9 km long, with a total elevation gain of around 450 m, and passes through villages, vineyards and forested areas. From Poljanice, the route continues along a shorter but steeper final section, trail no. 14. This part is approximately 1.1 km long and takes around 40 minutes, with an additional 200 m of elevation gain, leading all the way to the summit of Plešivica at 757 m, where a lookout pyramid is located.

Duration: 3:00h

Difficulty: technically easy, moderately demanding in terms of fitness

Map:

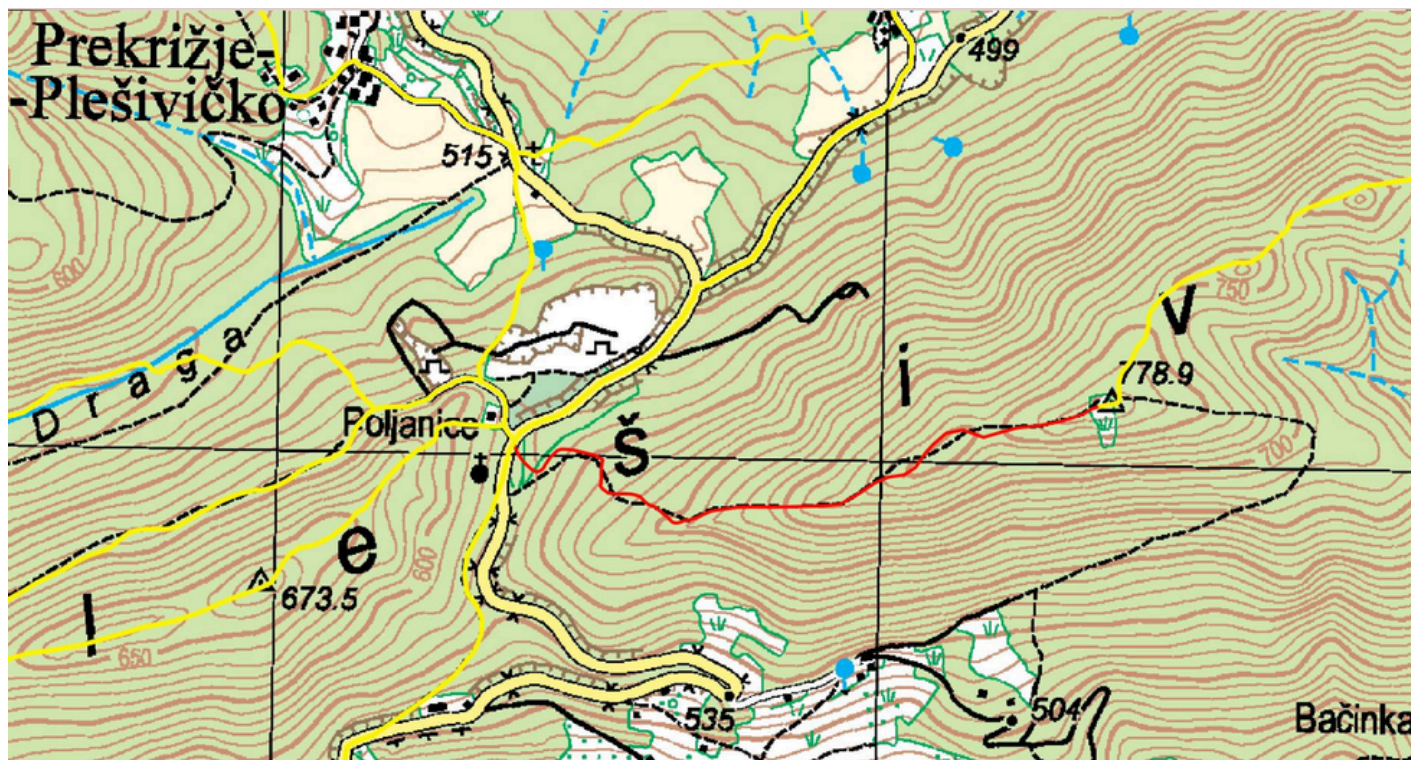

Poljanice-Plešivica

The Poljanice–Plešivica trail begins near the Srndać Hunting Lodge at Klet Poljanice, on the Poljanice pass, alongside the Samobor–Rude–Plešivica–Jastrebarsko county road. From the spacious parking area in front of the lodge, the route crosses the road and briefly leads across a meadow, passing a wooden signpost before entering a small fir grove. The trail then continues along a logging track and enters a beech forest, where the ascent gradually becomes steeper in a stepped manner. It continues along the western ridge of Plešivica, through tall beech forest, all the way to the summit, with a moderate climb and beautiful views of the Samobor Hills and the surrounding hills. The entire route is technically easy and moderately demanding in terms of fitness.

Duration: 40 minutes

Difficulty: moderately demanding in terms of fitness
